Testimonials :

"Without the skill we learned with LiYana, we would have assumed we were incompatible and gone our separate ways. With every issue that cropped up, we were constantly asking, "Should we end it, or keep going?" We got truly amazing results from applying simple things. There's not constant doubt or questioning and we don't freak out should things get really uncomfortable now and again. Getting the right insights and guidance has saved our relationship."

~ Steve M., Retreat Center Owner & Shannon M., Artist, Connecticut

"I finally understand what's been going on with all of my 'failed relationships.' Now that I'm a newly divorced mom of a toddler and thinking about relationships again someday, I've got the tools to be the woman I want to be for my son, my family, my business and someday for a lover. I'm so glad I got clear on this before embarking on another relationship that could have been doomed before it even began."

~ Megan Franzen, Mom & Health Counselor, New York

"I wish that every guy I've ever dated could have access to this information. No – I wish that every guy in the world could have access to this information, as I can only imagine how much more fulfilling, fun, and fabulous our relationships and world would be."

~ Jessica Grippo, Holistic Health Counselor, New York

"I now understand my husband, for the first time in six years." "I no longer think women – specifically my wife – are crazy. We're getting along better than we have in our whole marriage."

~ Rose & Bruce Faraline, Sales Trainer & Financial Advisor, San Francisco

"LiYana helped shed light on dark corners and merry go rounds that all my years of therapy didn't enlighten or allow me to get off the endless circling. And a few weeks ago, my man asked if he could marry me... I would NEVER be here, celebrating this wonderful partnership with a very special man, without having been in the workshop with LiYana!"

~ Elizabeth D'Agostino, Nonprofit Consultant, New York City

"I was able to identify root causes of recurring conflicts in my personal relationships. I am in a beautiful new relationship that we are both co-creating, from the ground up. I love and trust my current partner to a level I never thought possible after my divorce. The world is a better place with LiYana in it."

~ Tazima Davis, Consultant, Washington, DC
