Testimonials :

"I finally understand what's been going on with all of my 'failed relationships.' Now that I'm a newly divorced mom of a toddler and thinking about relationships again someday, I've got the tools to be the woman I want to be for my son, my family, my business and someday for a lover. I'm so glad I got clear on this before embarking on another relationship that could have been doomed before it even began."

~ Megan Franzen, Mom & Health Counselor, New York

"I wish that every guy I've ever dated could have access to this information. No – I wish that every guy in the world could have access to this information, as I can only imagine how much more fulfilling, fun, and fabulous our relationships and world would be."

~ Jessica Grippo, Holistic Health Counselor, New York

"LiYana supported me to zero in on what was important as a business leader and speaker and let go of what got in my way. Working with LiYana is like working with a sure thing!"

~ Kelly Drury, Entrepreneur, New York

"LiYana helped shed light on dark corners and merry go rounds that all my years of therapy didn't enlighten or allow me to get off the endless circling. And a few weeks ago, my man asked if he could marry me... I would NEVER be here, celebrating this wonderful partnership with a very special man, without having been in the workshop with LiYana!"

~ Elizabeth D'Agostino, Nonprofit Consultant, New York City

"I am continually amazed by LiYana's ability to listen – really listen – and provide spontaneous relevant insight. People keep asking me why I'm so shiny and smiley."

~ Laura V., Student, New York

"I now understand my husband, for the first time in six years." "I no longer think women – specifically my wife – are crazy. We're getting along better than we have in our whole marriage."

~ Rose & Bruce Faraline, Sales Trainer & Financial Advisor, San Francisco
